THE TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT—CONSTRUCTION OF THE LIQUOR DEALERS AT THE PUBLICATION OF THE NEW PROHIBITORY LAW.—The laws of the State of Pennsylvania regulating the trafficin'spirituous liquors, hitherto in force, are practically obsolete, and no attempt is made to practically obsolete, and no attempt is made to enforce their provisions. It is true that some attention is paid to the so-called license law, and that most, if not all, of those engaged in the retail liquor business are accustomed to apply for a license under it. The fee is only $10, which any person can well afford to pay, in return for the legal character which it imparts to his occupation. It is also true that this year the City Commissioners have refused to grant licenses to a large number of applicants, who were notorious for their looseness of character, and an utter disregard of decency in this manner of conducting their establishments. It is extremely doubtful, however, if any attempt would be made to close up their infamous dens, in case any of them should continue to carry on their business without a license.

in case any of them should continue to carry on their business without a license.

Among liquor dealers of this class, and, indeed, among those who make some pretensions to respectability, a feeling of consternation is at present prevailing, by reason of the promulgation of a law of the recent session of the Legislature, which, if enforced, is destined to interfere materially with their business as conducted heretofore. This law has several of the features of the Excise law now so stringently enforced in New York city, and there is every reason to believe that it will produce similar effects, if our municipal authorities have sufficient moral courage to begin and continue its enforcement.

The first section provides that the keepers of taverns and eating houses shall preserve order in their establishments, and call upon the nearest sheriff, constable, or policeman for assistance, whenever it shall be necessary. The officer thus called upon is required to remove the disorderly person, and, if necessary, to close the establishment until order is fully restored.

The second, third, and fourth sections regulate the sule of liquors to apprentices, minors, etc., and provide that in these two cases no liquor shall be furnished without the written consent of the master, parents, or guardian. It is also made unlawful to dispose of liquor to an habitual drunkard, or to a person who is intoxicated at the time, the penalty for this violation of the law being a revocation of the license.

The fourth section provides that no licensed dealer "shall, against the request of any wife, husband, parent, or child, sell, give away, or dispose of any strong or spirituous liquors, wines, ales, or beer, to the husband of any such wife, the wife of any such husband, parent of any such shild, or child of any such parent, under penalty of all the fines and forfeitures of this act."

The fifth section requires every licensed esta-lishment to be closed between midnight and sunrise, and during the entire day on the Christian Sabbath.

In the sixth section, it is provided that a conviction for the violation of any provision of the act by a person licensed under it, or at any licensed establishment, shall work a forfeiture of the iteense, in which case the license fee shall not be returned.

In the second section it is made the duty of very sheriff, constable, and police officer to nforce the provisions of the act; and he is authorized to close any establishment in which the law is not complied with, in case he shall deem it necessary, and to keep the same closed. To authorize this action, the officer's own observation, or information derived from any respectable citizen of the neighborhood, is sufficient warrant. It is also made the duty of the or to arrest the person violating the act bring him before any magistrate in the city, the latter being also required to entertain complaints made under oath by any citizen in complaints made under oath by any citizen in the vicinity.

The eighth section is of a very stringent and summary character. It requires the arrest of every person who is found in a state of intoxication in the streets or other public places, including houses for the disposal of liquors. The person so arrested is then to be taken before a magistrate, whose duty it is to inquire of the person, under oath or affirmation, the place where he or she obtained liquor, but no information thus elicited shall be used against the person giving it in any civil or criminal prosecution. In case the magistrate deems the person too much intoxicated to answer intelligibly, son too much intoxicated to answer intelligibly, he is to be committed until sober, when the examination will be resumed. The ninth section is equally salutary in its provision that the person who disposes of liquor to any individual to whom the sale of it is declared to be uniawful, shall be held responsible for all damages that may result in consequence The person sustaining the damage is authorized to bring suit in any court of competent jurisdic tion against the violator of the act, the net pro-ceeds to inure to his benefit. According to this provision, we suppose that when a drunken provision, we suppose that when a dranken rowdy indulges in the too-common pastime of breaking a window, the person of whom he obtained the liquor producing his intoxication is required to foot the glazier's bill. It will be well for the liquor traffickers to make a note of this particular provision of the act.

In the teuth and last section of the law, it is provided that, in addition to the forfeiture of the license, as noticed above, any violation of the law shall be considered a misdemeanor, and the law shall be considered a misdemeanor, and subject the guilty party to a fine of not more than twenty dollars, or an imprisonment of not more than five days, in default of payment.

The provisions of the act throughout are most excellent, but every considerate person must acknowledge that the penalties provided are altogether too light. Nevertheless, if the sober and order-loving citizens of Philadelphia unite with the municipal and judicial authorities to secure a thorough enforcement of the law, such secure a thorough enforcement of the law, such as it is, a great step will be taken towards rid-ding the community of the drunkenness and disorder which at present are as much of a curse as they are a disgrace.

THE HIEROGLYPHS .-

The Hieroglyphs ATTEMPTING TO BREAK OFEN A SAFE. - James Rodgers, about 1:30 Sunday morning, attempted to rob a fire-proof in a building at Second and Cadwalader streets. He reached the nearest point to the safe by going into a stone-yard which adjoined the building wherein the safe was contained. He made an entry into the building by foreing onen a door. Then, with a building by forcing open a door. Then, with a sledge weighing thirty-five pounds, he knocked the lock and hinges from the safe door, and with the use of stone-chisels, was commencing to tear off the iron ribs of the door, when the noise attracted the policemen. Rodgers secreted himself behind a large piece of stone in the yard, but was discovered. He was arrested, and Alderman Shoemaker committed him to

A NECRO WAR .- About half-past 1 o'clock yesterday a row occurred between a lot of negroes at Seventh and Minster streets. For charies E. Murray, Edward Seotze Anderson, Charies E. Murray, Edward Seotz, and Joseph Paney were arcested and held by Alderman Patchel in $500 bail. An old colored man was beaten in a terrible manner, and had to be taken to the Hospital, FALSE PRETENSES .- One J. S. Dawson was arrested on Saturday last at No. 817 Filbert street, on a serious charge of Jalse pretense. It is alleged that he stepped into one of our large business establishments, and representing that he had 75,000 cigars to dispose of obtained on such representations $1575. The faisity of his statements were ascertained, and Alderman Williams committed him to answer, in default of $3000 bail.

THE MIEROGLYPHS .-The Hieroglyphs.

Assault and Battery .- A man named Assault and Battery.—A man named Thomas Webb stepped into the house of Mr. James Howard, on Jefferson street, Germantown, for the purpose of conversing about some legal transaction. No sooner had he broached the subject, than Mr. and Mrs. Howard simultaneously made an assault upon him, and what with the use of nails and fists ne fared barely. Alderman Godbou committed them to answer in default of $2000 bail each.

Another Robbery .- Some persons unknown entered the tobacco store of William J. Ketler, No. 346 S. Third street, last night, and stole therefrom cigars and tobacco to the amount of $106. They managed to get in by forcing off a shutter from a little window which opens upon an alley off from Pine street, They also took a shawl and cloak.

ASSAULT ON AN OFFICER .- As Officer McAdams was conveying a prisoner to the lock up, when passing Fitter and Second atrests, he was assaulted by one Patrick Mulien. By this act Pat only got himself into trouble, as he was arrested and committed by Alderman Clouds in default of $1200 bail.

MRS. JEAN DAYMFORT LANDER.—The advent of Mrs. Lander at the Academy of Music, to morrow (Tuesday) evening, for a season of five nights and a matinee, promises to be the great dramatic event of the day. Her name is in everybody's mouth, and nothing else seems to be talked of or discussed on the streets, in the hotels and saloons, but Mrs. Lander's "Elizabeth" at the Academy this week; and, besides, the demand for choice seats is on the increase as the opening night approaches.

It will be remembered that she made a profound sensation at the Walnut a short time since, in her magnificent rendition of "Elizabeth, Queen of England," and as her limited engagement at that establishment was near its close, an invitation was extended to her by a number of our prominent citizens, headed by MRS. JEAN DAVENPORT LANDER .- The ad-al-number of our prominent citizens, headed by General Meade and Mayor McMichael, to pro-duce the piece at the Academy of Music, where, with the splendid appointments and stage scenery of the Academy, it could be brought scenery of the Academy, it could be brought out as it deserves.

This she consents to do, and, with a company of her own selection, with new and handsome wardrobes, and personal attention to detail, we expect to see it produced in style. Let no one who has seen Ristori in the same part, or who is a lover of classic and refined acting and familiar with English history, fall to see Mrs. Lander in this great role during her engagement. Aside from her claims as the most fin-Lander in this great role during her engagement. Aside from her claims as the most finished artisle on the American stage, and as a lady of refinement and culture, she should be gratefully remembered for her womanly and self-sacrificing devotion to our sick and wounded soldlers in the army hospitals in the Southern Department during the late war, having given not only liberally of her means, but, as a sacrifice to the cause, her much beloved companion and husband, the brave General Lander. We hope to see the house crowded ral Lander. We hope to see the house crowded at each performance with the clite, beauty, and fashion of Philadelphia.

A NARROW ESCAPE. - About 4 o'clock ves A Narrow Escape.—About 4 o'clock yesterdry afternoon, a little boy named James Ganon, while playing on the slip at Fairmount Park, lost his footing and fell into the water, and was carried quickly by the current to the turbine wheel race. When passing the gate he managed to catch hold of it, and hung on for life. He was rescued by Officer Lameback, of the Park Police. Had he not opportunely caught hold of the gate, his death would have been a certain and terrible one. Parents should not leave children alone in such places; the accidents are too many. cidents are too many.

LIVING WITH THE WRONG WOMAN .- James H. Corcoran some years ago emigrated from Massachusetts to this city, leaving in that State a wife. It has just been ascertained, so it is alleged, that he keeps a hotel in the Twenty-seventh Ward, and, for a partner, has a woman, but not the one he left in the "Old Bay Stafe." Alderman Beitler held him in $1000 bail until the true facts in the case could be ascertained.

THE HIEROGLYPHS .-The Hieroglyphs.

Missing.-John Werstein, about 5 feet 9 inches in height, having a goatee, wearing a black hat, black coat, pepper colored vest, dark pantaloons, patent leather gaiters, and a blue-and-white striped necktie, left his home, No. 1022 Vernon street, on Saturday morning last, since which time nothing has been heard of him. Any information as to his whereabouts MARING CHANGES .- On Saturday night, some person or persons unknown entered the Chesnut Hill Church by means of the basement window, and took the carpets up from the alsles and transferred them to a coal box. What this movement was for, except to await a favorable opportunity, in which to carry said carpet away, has not transpired. away, has not transpired.

A Horse Blanker was stolen by one Henry Potis, on whom it was found by Officer Stuart. The blanket bears the marks "J. H. C.," and is supposed to belong to a man by the name of Casselberry. ALL THE WORLD OVER! There are but few spots on our globe where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BIFTERSARE not known; and, when known, appreciated.

In the United States and British America it has become a household word. As a protective sgainst malaria, spidemic fevers, fever and ague, and other diseases, produced by miasmalic Influences, it stands far ahead of all other preparations, and is so considered by the most eminent physicians of the day.

In SOUTH and CENTRAL AMERICA, MEXICO, and WEST INDIES, it has obtained a firm hold on the minds of the people, and is implicitly relied upon as a certain preventive and cure for the many malarious diseases incident to those tropical regions.

In Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand, and adjacent islands its progress has been marvellous. Merchants, Miners, Farmers, Manufacturers, and Squatters all endorse it. Thousands already has it saved from the pernicious effects of miasma arising from the low swarapy grounds so prevalent in those countries.

In CHINA and the East Indies it is working its way with rapid strides, and is extensively used in the hospitals.

In conservative EUROPE, even, its influence is being felt; and the day is not far distant when HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will become in the Old World what it now is in the New-a never-falling joy to the afflicted.

SAFES! SAFES-FIRE AND BURGLAR-PROOF Ever since their first appearance in the mar-ket, the sales manufactured and sold by Messrs. Farrel, Herring & Co. have been awarded the highest encomiums and medals for their Fire and Burglar Proof qualities. Experiments by the manufacturers and the most skilful appli-cations and operations of the harriest bayer. the manufacturers and the most skilful applications and operations of the burgiar, have resulted one and the same; the safe door when closed and locked, effectually resists all attempts at forcible entry. But they are not less fire proof than burgiar-proof, inasmuch as frequent trials in great conflagrations have seemingly no effect upon them, and their contents remain in as safe a condition as when first placed between the protecting walls of iron. These safes, too, come from the most experienced and skilful jof workmen, who have made it a life study to strengthen all those points which, ou trial, exhibit the very slightest signs of vulnerability, until now, so great is the perfection arrived at, that they are impenetrable, and capable of withstanding the most fiery trial. Business men, savings institutions, and all who have valuables in charge, have taken cognizance of these qualities, and, purchasing, have ever had complete satisfaction charing, have ever had complete satisfaction with the strength and durability of the "Herring" Safe. The Government of the United States should not delay in providing the Revenue Collectors and Assessors with these invaluable safes, wherein to keep the income returns and other important documents. The fire on and other important documents. The fire on Saturday last in the building No. 271 South Third streat, occupied by Mr. J. W. Frazier, As-sessor of the First District, would have caused a great destruction of valuable documents had it not been for the timely arrival of the steamers; nevertheless, some of the documents were damaged by water. These safes, of all sizes, are for sale at the warerooms of Messrs. Farrel, Herring & Co., No. 629 Chesnut street.

THE GETTYSBURG HOME FOR INVALID SOLDIERS—A BRILLIANT AND PATRIOTIC IDEA.— Our citizens have a rare opportunity to con-tribute to the praiseworthy project of erecting a National Home for Invalid Soldiers, and at the same time have a direct interest in the dis-tribution of a large number of magnificent precious stones. During the last session of the Pennsylvania Legislature an act was passed giving authority to a number of patriotic and public-spirited gentlemen to raise funds for the establishment at Gettysburg Pa. of a National public-spirited gentlemen to raise funds for the establishment at Gettysburg, Pa., of a National Home for disabled soldiers, said funds to be raised by a grand "gift distribution" consisting of a magnificent assortment of diamonds, pearls, rubles, emeralds and other precious stones. Moore, Secretary.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Moore, after which the following report from the Committee on Supplies was read:—

Bince the last meeting the following articles have been received:—From the Church of the Cruciaxion a bundle of new clothing valued at $25.50; from the Prayer Book Scolety, one hundred prayer books; from an old lady of Christ Church, a Bible used by herself for sixty years.

We desire to make a special and urgent appeal for clothing to be sent to several families of freed people in Hanover county, Virginia. These families consist in great part of old and disabled persons. In one instance the man upon whom the chief support of many devolved, was drowned in sight of his wife and children while fording a river during the spring freshets. In another family the husband and father is unable to work, from long-continued and hopeless sickness. The former owners of the people, though most kindly disposed, are scarcely able to provide themselves with food and clothing. It is hoped that some help will be soon sent to the rooms, No. 708 Walnut street, Signed E. R. Harris, Chairman of Committee on Supplies.

The Treasurer of the Association being absent. The Treasurer of the Association being absent there was no report of the state of the funds. The following was then read:—
At a stated meeting of the Pennsylvania Branch of the Freedmen's Commission of the Protestant Episcopal Church, held at the Episcopal Rooms, on Thursday, the 16th of May, at 12 o'clock, the following report was read:—

The following report of the President, Mrs. Thomas P. James, was then read:

As this is the last general meeting before we separate for the aummer. I have thought it expedient to present to you, as far as statistics can do it, the result of the labors of this branch of the Freedmen's Commission of the Episcopai Church since the lat of January.

There are now connected with this association twenty-six auxiliary, besides contributing societies, formed in different parishes in this diocese, which give either annual or monthly contributions of mone, s or supplies: eight of these are severally pledged to support a teacher, and these teachers have already proceeded to the places assigned them at the South; five other teachers are supported by the Branch who have not yet been adopted by any church, making in all 13. These are located in Mississippl, Kentucky, Virginia, and North Carolina.

Nix new schools have been opened by these teachers, the remainder having been sent to schools established last year by the Episcopal Commission.

The Pennsylvania Branch has made arrangements for opening schools at three other new points as soon as suitable teachers can be ound. Earnest Christian missionaries are new the great want of this association, those who are willing to forsake home and its comforts to carry to the degraded freedmen of our land the word of God, as the exponent of true liberty and education.

By October we ought to have twesty more teachers.

By October we ought to have twenty more teachers.

During the summer will not each lady here present

Divine Master will be successful in this undertaking, and none others ought to be accepted by the Commission.

Divine Master will be successful a this undertaking, and none others ought to be accepted by the Commission.

I would also ask each one of yo ito try and organize in the church you attend, during the summer season, an auxiliary or contributing see ety, to collect money and supplies for the freedmen. A little exertion—a little self-denial on your pap, would increase our means for promoting the casse of Christ and His Church smong a poor and dest sed race.

I have not found the clergy i four Church backward in helping on the cause—and I I am confident that every minister in this diocese will hall with joy any assistant in stirring up at laterest among his parishoners in this great missionary work of the day, You have here learned something of the wants and capabilities of the emancips ed slaves—tell it among your friends in the country, and excits among them an interest in our common raission field.

Since January I, five manths only, over $5000 in money has been collected for educational purposes, the greater part of it in Philadelphia. Clothing and books valued at $500 have also been received during the same time. No paid a fent has been employed to collect this amount, the vork having been entirely accomplished by the worsen of the Church.

The supplies were for farded to the teachers by Government transportation, and distributed to the needy children of the schools. Thirty-two boxes and barrels of clothing have been sent to ten different points in the Southern States, namely.—Petersburg, Norfolk, Charlottesville, Portsmouth, Deep Creek, Lindsay's Farm, and Cai non's Farm, Virginia; Newbern, North Carolina; Louisville, Kentucky; and Vicksburg, Mississippi.

In nearly all the abovenamed places, the numbers of children under instruction would be doubled if we had more teachers, and there comes to us the constant call for more help to gather in the abundant harvest. If we, as individuals or as a Church, neglect this opportunity, how shall we answer the Lord of the Harvest in the day when He will say, "Inasmuch as

The Rev. B. Wistar Morris, of St. Luke's Church, Germantown, then spoke at some length on the progress of the Commission, after which the meeting adjourned.

THE AFRICAN M. E. CONFERENCE-To-DAY'S THE AFRICAN M. B. CONFERENCE—TO-DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.—The Conference reassembled at 9 o'clock this morning, at the Bethel Chapel, Six'h street near Lombard, Bishop Wayman presiding. The Revs. John M. Brown, R. F. Wayman, and W. D. Schureman were introduced. Rev. Isaac Parker, a regularly ordained Elder from another denomination, was admitted to the Conference.

After the calling of the roll and reading

mitted to the Conference.

After the calling of the roll and reading the minutes of the previous session, the Conference attended to the reading of the financial reports of the different circuits and stations.

As the special order of the day, the Conference then took up the case of the Rev. A. C. Crippen, who was placed on trail for unkind treatment in his matrimonial relations. He was suspended from all official standing for one year. In the trial the interests of the Church were represented by the Rev. William Moore, Rev. Mr. Crippin conducted his own defense.

The report of the General Book Steward was then read, showing how the publication of the then read, showing how the publication of the Church organ had advanced the interests of the denomination. The financial affairs were reported as being in an embarrassing condition.

This afternoon, at 4 o'clock, the annual sermon will be preached before the Conference.

Sarbath Even the Sarbons for the Masses.

These services at the Clinton Street Presbyterian Church have proved very successful. Dr. Marsh has been presching a fine series of sermons on "The Mounts ins of the Bible," "The Clouds," etc. etc. Last + Vening the subject was "The Flowers of the Bible," and a more delightful sermon could soarcely be imagined. The little vine that grows in the garret window to cheer the poor at man, the wrenth of beauty that adorns the head of the blooming bride, the fragrant spray that sheds its sweetness over the pale face of the dead, the aged olive trees in Gethsemene that w. times ed the agony of our Lord the ancient giant trees of our own continent—coval probably with Noah—all were interwoven with the less in of the evening. The magnificent quartette s hir adds not a little to the charm of these sery io s, and Mrs. Tudor's fine solo, "Jonsider the Lilies," from the Creation sung at the closs to flast evening's service, was very appropriates and finely executed. LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE BARGER HOMICIDE.

THE BARGER HOMICIDE.

A number of jurors—quite a number for a panel of forty-two gentlemen—were incompetent to serve in this case because of conscientious scrapies upon the subject of capital punishment, but comparatively few on account of formed or expressed opinious as to the prisoner's guilt or innocease.

At half-past 12 o'clock the jury was completed and sworn, the bill of indictment was read. T. B. Dwight, Assistant District Attorney, opened the case for the Commonwealth. He explained the law of murder fully, as is the custom especially with a new panel of jurors, clearly making out the distinctions between murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, and manishapiter.

He also explained that when a man is charged with an offense, the law generally does not recognize intoxication as a defense, but in order to make out a case of murder of the first degree it is necessary to show that there was a design to kill, for if the mind in any way is so clouded as to be unable to design, there cannot be a case of murder in the first degree.

And if it was found that the defendant was so very drunk that he could not intend, and if the killing without legal provocation be shown, then the offense would fail to murder in the second degree.

The facts of the case, as they were expected to be proven, were stated to the jury:—On the evening of February 21 the defendant and decessed were seen going towards the house of the former, the decessed for it, while the defendant west on to bid house. Presently the decessed came to the house, and saton a settle: the defendant entered the room with a gun, and said, "If you don't give me satisfaction, I will warm you;" he then raised the gun, and fired at decessed, the balls entering his breast, and causing death in a short time

The Court at 1½ o'clock adjourned until 8 o'clock, Charge of inevasions of the revenue laws;

The Grand Jury should inquire diligently as to persons engaged in evasions of the revenue laws; and as to any officials, or their subordinates, whe may consive at or screen such frauds. I do not propose to discuss the subject, nor do I recommend any presentment of it by the Grand Jury without the names of accused persons. The subject is perfectly well uncerstood except as to the practical measures required for detective purposes.

Its inherent difficulties, under this head, may be very great, but they ought, if possible, to be overcome. My reasons for mentioning it are, that herefores the persons detected have not been offenders of the most dangerous class; and that fals delicacy has been supposed to prevent some private citizens, and the fear of resentment to deter others, from becoming informers. The Grand Jury may, with great propriety, inquire who possesses the means of knowledge of important facts which are for any such reasons suppressed.

The attendance of all such persons for private exa-

The attendance of all such persons for private examination before the Grand Jury can be compelled when the provis are apparent y sufficient to warrant prosecutions. I do not recommend the knimediate indiscriminate indictment of accosed persons who have not been previously committed to answer any charge. They would taus be deprived of the privilege of a pre impary public hearing. of a pre immary public hearing.

The proper course in most, if not in all cases of the kind, would be to make your presentment in such a manner that, under warrants upon them, the regular course of hearings may be preserved. No other course can be proper, unless in the case of a fightly from justice, or of an accused pe son who, for some known reason, is likely to abscond.
